

Erased Masonic lodges and their surviving records.

This table lists all Masonic lodges under the United Grand Lodge of England that have been closed (in Masonic terminology, erased) between 1894 and 2010, and the whereabouts of any surviving records. The date 1894 has been chosen as it follows directly from John Lane's publication Masonic Records 1717-1894. Lists of all the lodges home and abroad etc. 2nd edition, London 1895, which lists all lodges and any erasures before this date. This is available in hard copy at the Library and Museum at Freemasons' Hall, London and online at <http://www.hrionline.ac.uk/lane/> and researchers interested in lodges extant in this earlier period should refer to it.

This list only applies to lodges, the basic Masonic unit. It does not cover chapters and it does not include other Masonic orders, such as Mark Masonry.

The table is arranged by lodge number. At a lodge's foundation it is given a unique number, which are issued in succession. The current numbering system was last revised in 1863. Lodges in existence before that time were renumbered and the previous numbering system was abandoned.

Information on the extent and whereabouts of the records of lodges that are still-active was the subject of a separate survey, the Historical Records Survey. Returns were received during 2008-9 from two thirds of the lodges and chapters surveyed and information was given on nearly 120,000 individual record items. There have also been surveys made in 2010 of lodge and chapter records deposited at local record offices and of surviving lists of members of Masonic lodges submitted to the county or borough Clerks of the Peace and held among quarter sessions records under the 1799 Unlawful Societies Act.

How can this information be used?

The list gives information on 1459 lodges and lists the whereabouts of the records for 437 of them. In conjunction with other sources on still active lodges, this vast body of data can be used to plot the overall shape of the Masonic presence nationally, or to identify the inception and demise of an individual lodge. It will help with research into Freemasonry at the national, regional and local levels and makes researchers aware of records that tell the story of an individual lodge and its members, and contribute to the story of the wider community in which it operated.

How can I see these records?

Access to any of the records listed is at the discretion of the body that holds them and records including personal information may be subject to restricted access periods. Records listed here that are held by the Library and Museum are stored off-site; prior notice is needed before they can be viewed and a retrieval fee is payable.

How was this list compiled?

The information has been compiled from the records of Grand Lodge. These have been cumulated in the table 'List of Lodges removed from the roll since last closing up of numbers in 1863' in Masonic year book historical supplement 2nd edition, 1969, pp 332-350. This was augmented by a survey of the (quarterly) proceedings of Grand Lodge for 1969-2010. These sources provided a list of which lodges had been erased, their province or location, and when and why they were erased.

The whereabouts of surviving records of erased lodges was compiled from:

- the catalogue of the Library and Museum:
<http://www.freemasonry.london.museum/catalogue.php>
See below for information on the Library's reference numbers
- information gathered from a separate survey of Masonic records held by (mainly local authority) record offices in England and Wales:
<http://www.freemasonry.london.museum/resources/information-leaflets/>
- information sent by lodge secretaries to the Historical Records Survey of the extent and whereabouts of records of current lodges, which all lodges were asked to submit in 2008-2009.

The list includes information on lodges erased up to and including December 2010. The process of erasure continues and the list will be revised from time to time.

What do the column headings mean?

Name

This is the name of the lodge, but the word lodge is generally omitted, or sometimes abbreviated to L. The full title would usually be xyz lodge or, less commonly lodge of xyz.

Province/place

This is a mixture of English and Welsh Masonic provinces, Masonic Districts outside England and Wales, or other places overseas where lodges met.

The English and Welsh places are mostly the names of current Masonic provinces. In broad terms these are co-terminus with pre-1974 county boundaries and pre-1965 London boundaries. Thus, for example, Sheffield is in the county and province of West Yorkshire; Birmingham in Warwickshire, and Wolverhampton in Staffordshire. There are exceptions: Bristol is a province in its own right, and is not in Gloucestershire; the Masonic province of Sussex includes both counties of East and West Sussex; the counties of Kent and of Lancashire are both split into Masonic provinces of East Kent and West Kent and of East Lancashire and West Lancashire. In Wales Masonic administration is now arranged in the provinces of north, west and south and Monmouthshire and these provinces cross ancient and modern county boundaries. In the London area the arrangements are less clear, as Masonic arrangements do not follow modern, or older administrative boundaries. Lodges that meet within five miles of Charing Cross will be in London; those between five and ten miles of Charing Cross could be in London or the neighbouring province (Kent, Surrey, Middlesex, Hertfordshire or Essex as appropriate) and those farther than ten miles from Charing Cross will be in the neighbouring province. Very often, this means that lodges in modern inner-London are in London and those in outer-London are in the neighbouring county.

Overseas lodges are listed because, at one time, they came under the jurisdiction of UGLE, but on the creation of a Grand Lodge in their home country, they moved to be under its jurisdiction. In Australia, Canada, and New Zealand, the location is also the name of the new Grand Lodge. With other places, including South America, Africa and especially India, the position is less clear cut. Sometimes the place indicates a District or a new Grand Lodge and in others it is the place where the lodge met. Grand Lodges are usually represented as name of GL, country, thus New South Wales, Australia; while places are country – place, so India – Agra.

Dates

The warrant date is the date when the lodge was authorised to meet by Grand Lodge; the erasure date is the year in which Grand Lodge agreed to the erasure.

Reason

Possible reasons for closure include:

- Erasure. The lodges in the words of the (recent) proceedings of Grand Lodge ‘found themselves to be no longer viable’. This could be due to a number of reasons, most often due to declining membership.
- Amalgamation. When the lodge with which the erased lodge amalgamated doesn’t change its name, the reason reads, erased and amalgamated with xyz, 123, but when the amalgamated lodge is given a new name, the wording is, erased and amalgamated with xyz, 123 to form abc, 456.
- Transfer to another Grand Lodge. The wording used differentiates between this happening at the Grand Lodge’s formation eg the mass transfer that took place at the formation of the Grand Lodge of India in 1961, or transfer to an existing Grand Lodge at a later date.
- The lodge was never consecrated. Consecration is the final process in the foundation of a lodge.

Records

The records of lodges that amalgamate go to the successor lodge, while ownership of the records of those that are fully erased goes to the Grand Master and under current arrangements should be transferred to the Library and Museum. The whereabouts of records of lodges that have moved to another Grand Lodge has not been investigated. It is hoped to undertake this work at a later date.

Where records have been located, the reference number allocated to them by the holding repository has been given eg: GBR 1991 ELM/339-342:

- GBR 1991 Identifies the Library and Museum of Freemasonry
- ELM means erased lodge material
- 339-342 identifies four record types

Further information on the content and dates of the individual records and on the lodge that created them can be found on the catalogue of the Library and Museum:

How do I search the list?

The list can be searched in a number of ways, enabling information on an individual lodge, or place to be located.

- By using the 'find' function at the top of the pdf screen
- By cutting and pasting all or some of the document into Microsoft Excel and using its sort functions
- By enquiry to the Library and Museum:
  - E mail: libmus@ugle.org.uk
  - Phone: 020 7395 9257
  - Post:
